5 Step Hunger Scale

1. represents being extremely hungry, to the point of feeling weak or irritable ("hangry").

2. indicates mild hunger, a signal that your body needs food soon.

3. suggests neutrality, where you are neither hungry nor full.

4. signifies feeling satisfied and comfortably full, the ideal state after a meal.

5. means feeling uncomfortably full or overstuffed.